

Award

May 2010

Power-One recognizes quality and portfolio

EPCOS Italy won the first ever Strategic Supplier Award to be presented by Power-One, a US-based technology company with operations worldwide. EPCOS' broad product spectrum, outstanding quality, excellent pricing and comprehensive support for research and development activities clinched the decision.

Power-One, a leading provider of power supplies and power management solutions, presented awards to a total of 12 suppliers.

Capacitors for solar inverters

Drawing on the EPCOS product range, TDK-EPC supplies Power-One mainly with film capacitors for solar inverters, but also provides thermistors, varistors and surge arresters.

Besides producing efficient power supplies and management solutions, Power-One also develops and manufactures products such as routers, data storage systems and servers, as well as optical networks and equipment for use in medical diagnostics. Headquartered in Camarillo, California, the company posted sales of around USD 430 million in 2009. Power-One has sales offices throughout the world, plus factories and research units in Asia, Europe and North America.